

REMARKS

Claims 35 – 54 are pending in the application, all of which are rejected.
Claims 35 – 54 are cancelled and new claims 55 – 85 are added.

Claim Rejections – 35 USC 102

The Examiner rejected claims 35 – 54 under 35 USC 102(e), as being anticipated by Helgeson et al. US Patent No. 6643652.

The new claims are broadly those granted in applicant's corresponding UK Patent No. 2411,994.

Claim 55 is respectfully believed to overcome the rejection to Hegelson. The Examiner on page 2 of his Office Action states that the object is read as the interfacing server. In claim 55 the interfacing server cannot read onto the object for at least the reasons given below.

As per claim 55 all the servers are distinctly recited in the claims. There is thus no teaching in Helgeson of an object.

Furthermore there is no teaching in Helgeson that an object stores data for which remote access is required as well as enablement data, a first identity arrangement for holding a first identity indicating a host or provider of the object, and a second identity arrangement for holding identities of remote entities interacting with the data.

There is certainly no teaching of an object being created in response to a request from a remote entity, as required by the claim. It will be clear to the Examiner that an interfacing server is not created in response to a request.

There is no hint in Helgeson to create an object having the above-identified claimed properties.

Thus claim 55 is believed to be novel and inventive over Helgeson.

The same features of the object are defined in claims 79 and 80 and these claims are therefore believed to be novel and inventive for the same reasons.

No new matter is added by the present amendments.

All the matters raised by the Examiner have been dealt with and allowance of the application is respectfully awaited.

Respectfully submitted,
